Thanks – I will touch base with PMO regarding some great website ideas.

When you met with Dan Hilton the other day, did he end up confirming if CPC HQ would cover the cost of some of your travel? For example, one of the events they asked you to participate in is coming up next week (Nova Scotia Student Campus Conservatives). I'd like to book your flights soon, but need to know who's covering for it. Did he discuss this with you? Let me know.

Subject: email responses

Hi guys:

Just back from Hamilton, Truro and South West Nova.

Everywhere I went people told me they had responded to our email appeal.

More than a few mentioned ... Did you read my comments? or I was the one who wrote suggesting blah blah ...

I am starting to think we had better find a way of dealing with this mail before people get pissed off, that we haven't responded.

Frankly I can't see any way around it other than have a staffer assigned to work with me on tailored responses to Cons VIPS and others who will expect to hear directly.

Your ideas?

Subject: Mike responds

Dan:

1: I am trying to clean up a few things and as you see by the attached, there are still some things like the Dal Students event, next Friday, on which I am not clear.

2: In my recent travels I have had more than a dozen people ask me what I thought of their suggestions for our party. Of course I have not seen those emails, but could not tell them that. After all, I asked them to write me. I asked to be allowed to attend the meeting with Mars Hill, and received no response from Tracy.

This is not the way I usually work. If my name is out in front, then I want to be part of the decision making process. If this goes bad, I'm the one our members will blame. I believe in collaboration. It seems not everyone likes to work that way.

Until the situation is clarified, I am in a state of suspended animation.

You know where to reach me when you figure it all out.

Mike

Hi Mike,

Just wanted to touch base on a few issues.

I have arranged to set funds aside where it makes sense and I have discussed this with Jenni Byrne. She should be the primary person on our end to square up the appropriateness of visits etc and she can review the schedule from your assistant to see if there are ridings of influence in the area.

I am sure that Tracy would love you to participate in as many meetings as you like but I know she is trying to get Mars Hill to work a bit more efficiently so your time is not wasted.

I know that she has asked for a data dump of email responses. I'll get her to call you so we can get on them quickly.
